A specialist renewable energy investment firm

Company Profile

Ilion Ventures (“Ilion”) is a specialist investment firm based in London with a network of affiliates in Europe, the Americas, Asia and Africa

Ilion is committed to making a positive and significant impact on fighting the causes of climate change by developing and investing in renewable energy projects

We are firm believers in renewable energy, solar in particular. Renewables are disrupting the power, transportation and heating sectors at an unprecedented rate

The founders of Ilion are pioneers in solar investing. The team has deployed over $5b of capital in solar projects worldwide

We are particularly proud in having done many “first time deals”, be that in a new asset class, under a new regulatory regime or a new jurisdiction

Investment Approach

Ilion specializes in investing in projects at the early stages of the development process. This is the riskiest part of the development process and as such few investors are able to invest in early stage projects

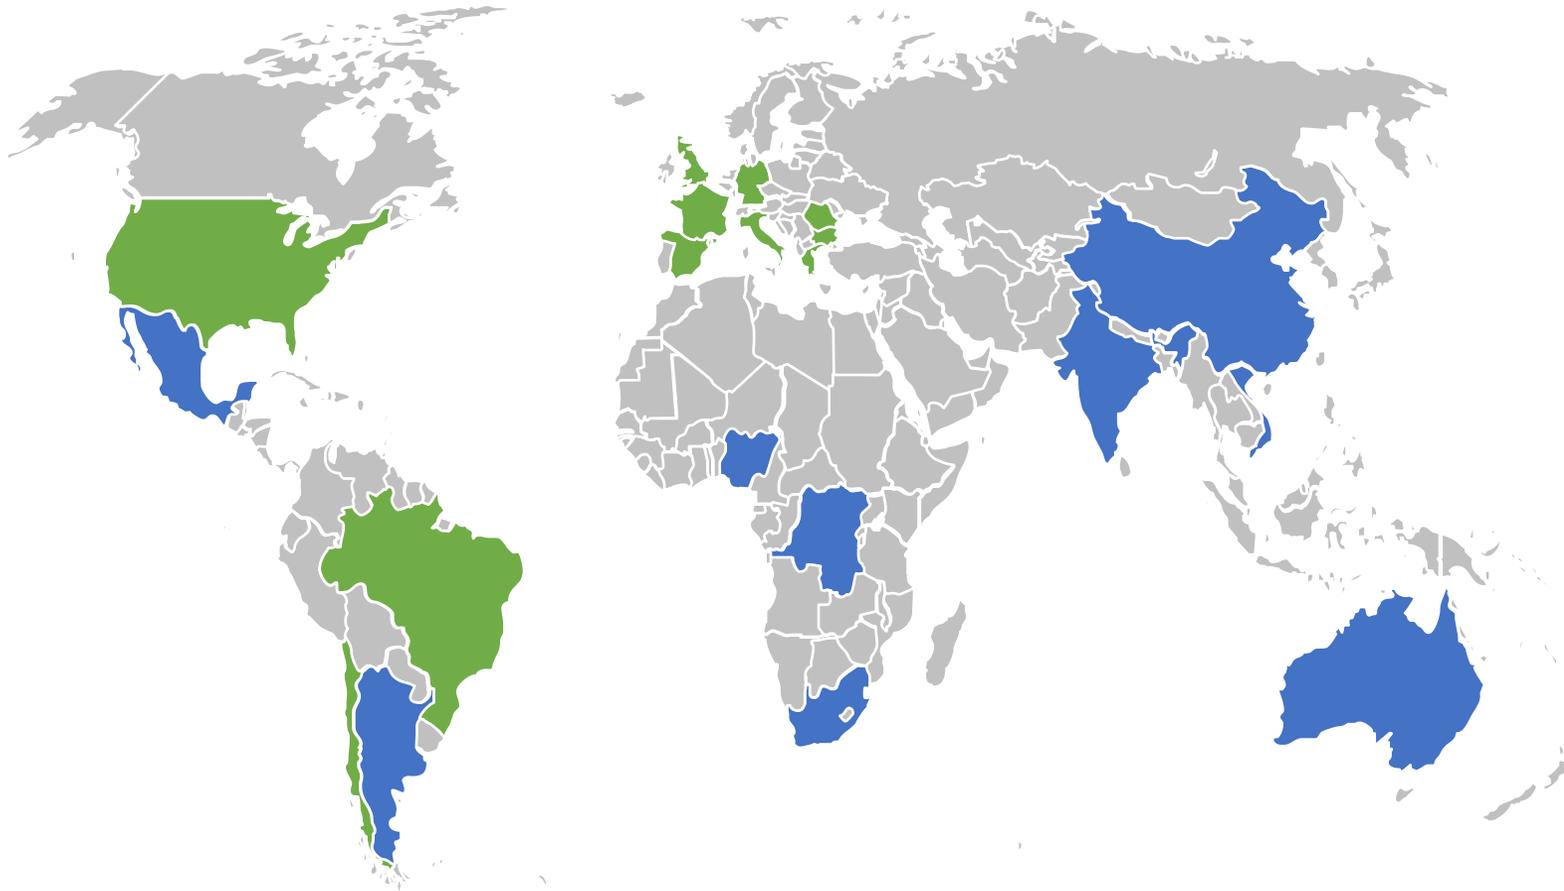

We have the experience and the skills to assess the project risks and swiftly provide the capital and know-how to progress the project to completion

Ilion partners with best of class companies to complete the projects in a timely manner
